

Apostle Steve Lance

Faith Assembly, Kiln, Mississippi

QUESTION:

You have been connected to the move of Glory for a number of years. Where do you see the move headed and how did B4J impact you, your family and your ministry? Tie this into the word for 2019, Year of Favor.

Having been a student of moves of God for 38 years and actually being a part of one of the greatest moves to date, to me, defines expressions of God's favor.

Each of these moves had differences in focus. Some had an emphasis on healing, some repentance, others on Holy Ghost baptisms. Even though different in emphasis, there were always many similarities, such as, being "slain in the Spirit", strong conviction, Holy Ghost manifesting in signs and wonders, and the like.

I feel as God's Favor is released among those that are pursuing more of God we are heading into the days when the "more" is going to be released. What is that? Just in context with Isaiah 61. We will be distinguished by an overflow of anointing and Glory like we have only dreamed about and longed for. There will be greater Glory on our preaching. Healings on a scale we have only read about. Not only physical, but also for those that are being ravaged by the world and religion. Addictions are going to be broken and people set free from the demon hell they are living in.

The church will arise to where she is supposed to be in ministering to those who are hurting. There will be supernatural joy released to give them beauty for ashes. Along with this, we will see supernatural provision to get the job done. We will see a fresh emphasis in the use of the Gifts of the Spirit and will operate in the Fruit of the Spirit as signs and wonders flow.

Why us? I believe it's because we have been faithful to keep the purity of the Word and have refused to place the Holy Spirit in a closet. We want Him on full display. We do not want to scare or embarrass anyone. Neither are we scared or embarrassed of the full tilt expression of His Glory. We are also determined to not only preach the truth as we know it, but are in pursuit of the deeper thing as to know Him better. There is an ongoing desire to allow the Holy Spirit to move on our churches, conferences, and among us as Five Fold Ministers. Along with these we have put a premium on prayer. Seeking His face and not just His hand, a pursuit of intimacy if you will. With all our degrees and pedigrees we know we cannot fulfill the call without Him.

Where do I see this move going? Higher and hotter. In this year, supposed unanswered prayer, unfulfilled prophecies and promised dreams are going to finally come to fruition in this year of favor. Things thought to be impossible or long dead are going to come back to life. This is a time of multiplication of souls, gifts and signs and wonders. Not just overseas but here in the United States.

That is what was the amazing part of B4J. I have been on mission trips, seen the signs and wonders, the miracles and healings. But, all I could do was return home to tell the stories. With my family and members of my church going too, they got to live the stories. It has opened the eyes of compassion like nothing else could and we know what happens when Jesus was moved with compassion. God's Favor was released. The same will be for us.

It also opened the door that I might see my children leave me to follow God's call to greater ministry than I ever thought possible. They weep at the thought of San Salvador Island and the longing to return there.

As for me, B4J just added more fuel to the fire. Even though I will turn 60 on the last day of R2G, I am still moving forward.